

Student A: You and your partner have different parts of the same crossword puzzle. Fill in the missing words by asking your partner for clues.

Take turns asking questions like: What's 3 across? or What's 5 down? Answer by describing the word without saying it. Multi-word answers are written without spaces in the grid.

Student B: You and your partner have different parts of the same crossword puzzle. Fill in the missing words by asking your partner for clues.

Take turns asking questions like: What's 3 across? or What's 5 down? Answer by describing the word without saying it. Multi-word answers are written without spaces in the grid.

Student A – easier version: You and your partner have different parts of the same crossword puzzle. Fill in the missing words by asking your partner for clues.

Take turns asking questions like: What's 3 across? or What's 5 down? Answer by describing the word without saying it. Multi-word answers are written without spaces in the grid.

Student B – easier version: You and your partner have different parts of the same crossword puzzle. Fill in the missing words by asking your partner for clues.

Take turns asking questions like: What's 3 across? or What's 5 down? Answer by describing the word without saying it. Multi-word answers are written without spaces in the grid.

